

Programming to Further Your Discussions

Program Organizer

Living Literature
Arts and Culture

Website

<https://livingliterature.org/>

40-50 minute reader's theater performance inspired by, and using selections from, the book.

Contact

Barry Press
barrympress@gmail.com
401-437-2297

Aurora Collaborative
Arts and Culture

<https://www.auroracollaborative.com/>

A musical performance created by Sam and fellow musician/composers to suit the theme of Climate Change. Note: Program will be developed to begin a tour in the Spring. Contact Sam starting late February to schedule.

Sam Hollister
auroracollaborative@gmail.com
401-598-6328

Notable Works
Arts and Culture

<https://noreeninglesi.com/notable-works/>

A musical performance accompanied by readings from their collection of poems, Voices of The Earth: The Future of Our Planet. The book contains original poetry addressing the issue of climate change and includes a list of environmental agencies in Rhode Island which are dealing with this crisis.

Noreen Inglesi
noreeninglesi@cox.net
info@notableworks.org
401-588-2964

Livable RI
Exhibit

<http://livableri.org/>

A traveling exhibit of 26 posters which "call out for a civic alliance to reverse global warming." Limited scheduling availability

Helen Drew
livableRI1@gmail.com
401-447-1560

Rhode Island Resource
Recovery Center
Science and Education

<https://www.rirrc.org/education-program-support/presentations-speakers>

Free presentation on composting available to book through the RIRRC for libraries and other state organizations.

Nature Conservancy
Science and Education

Citizens Climate Lobby

<https://citizensclimatelobby.org/>

Mary Jane Sorrentino

Activism

https://citizensummary.org/chapters/RI_Providence/

mjquincy@aol.com